Light Partials

Preparation

Turn the camera on and adjust the threshold as needed until your phone's flashlight appears as a single small shape with well-defined edges.

Create a 5-note sequence in the sequencer with the following pattern: white key, white key, black key, black key, white key.

Enter a series of partials in the provided text box (or click the button to generate a random series).

Once you are finished, be sure to click in any empty space within the window to remove your keyboard's focus from the threshold dial and partials text box. This will ensure that subsequent key presses will change section (1, 2, 3, 4, 5) and step through the pitches from your sequence (left and right arrows).
